TERMS OF BUSINESS

We are a member of the National Association of Funeral Directors and subscribe to its current Code of Practice, a copy of which is available upon request. We aim to act in a professional manner and provide a courteous, sensitive and dignified service to our clients.

1 Estimates and Expenses

We will supply the client with an estimate as an indication of the charges likely to be incurred on the basis of the information and details we know at the date of the estimate. We will act as the agent of the client in arranging services from third parties on their behalf and will include these in the estimate. While we make every effort to ensure the accuracy of the estimate, the charges are liable to alteration particularly where third parties change their rates or charges.

We may not know the amount of third party charges in advance of the funeral; however, we give you a best estimate of such charges in the written estimate. The actual amount of the charges will be detailed and shown in the final account.

If you amend your instructions we will require your written confirmation of the changes. We may need to make an extra charge in accordance with prices published in our current price list.

We will add VAT to our charges, where applicable, and at a rate applicable when we prepare the invoice.

2 Payment Arrangements

The client is required to pay a deposit of £1000 before the funeral takes place unless agreed otherwise by us in writing.

The funeral account is due for payment within 14 days of our account, unless otherwise agreed by us in writing.

If you fail to pay us in full on the due date we may charge interest:

- at a rate of 4% above our bank's base rate from time to time in force;
- calculated (on a daily basis) from the date of our account until payment;
- compounded on the first day of each month; and
- before and after any judgment (unless a court orders otherwise)

We may recover (under clause 3) the cost of taking legal action to make the client pay.

3 Indemnity

Clients are to indemnify us in full and hold us harmless from all expenses and liabilities we may incur (directly or indirectly including financing costs and including legal costs on a full indemnity basis) following any breach by the client of any of their obligations under these terms.

This means that clients are liable to us for losses we incur because they do not comply with these terms. For example, we will charge you an administration fee where we receive a cheque from the client which is subsequently not honored or if we write to remind them that an account is overdue. If we instruct debt collection agents we may also recover, from the client, the fees we incur. Further details regarding these fees are available on request. We may claim those losses from the client at any time and, if we have to take legal action, we will ask the court to make the client pay our legal costs.

4 Cooling-Off Period

The Cancellation of Consumer Contracts made in the Consumer's Home or Place of Work Regulations 2014 may give the client the right to terminate this agreement in the cooling-off period of 14 days. If the client wishes the performance of this agreement, to which this right applies, to commence before the end of the cooling-off period, the client must sign an authority. In the event that the client exercise their right to cancel this contract during the cooling-off period, they will be required to pay a reasonable amount for goods and services already supplied.

5 Termination

This agreement may also be terminated before the services are delivered: (1) by us if the client fail to honour their obligations under these Terms and (2) by the client communicating to us in writing, terminating their instructions.

If we terminate the instructions the client may, depending on the reasons for the termination, be asked to pay a reasonable amount based upon the work carried out up to the time the termination is received.

6 Standards of Service

The National Association of Funeral Directors Code of Practice requires that we provide a high quality of service in all aspects. If clients have any questions or concerns about the service we provide, they can raise them in the first instance with our designated senior person. If that does not resolve the problem to their satisfaction the National Association of Funeral Directors through the NAFD Resolve Service provides a low cost dispute resolution service, as an alternative to legal action. The NAFD can be contacted at 618 Warwick Road, Solihull, West Midlands B91 1AA. The NAFD Resolve Service, and how it can be accessed, is explained in the leaflet made available to the client and on display on our premises.

All date and times provided on estimates cannot be guaranteed until final bookings are made and confirmed. Although we endeavour to provide a prompt and efficient service for the client, there may be instances where, because of circumstances beyond our control, we are unable to fulfil our obligations to them on the date or time specified. Where this is the case we will attempt to contact the client in advance, using the details on file, and advise them of alternative arrangements.

7 Agreement

Clients continuing instructions will amount to them continuing acceptance of these Terms of Business.

Instructions will not create any right enforceable (by virtue of the Contracts Rights of Third Parties Act 1999) by any person not identified as our client.

If any of these terms are unenforceable as drafted:-

- it will not affect the enforceability of any other of these Terms; and
- if it would be enforceable if amended, it will be treated as so amended.

Nothing in these Terms restrict or limits our liability for death or personal injury.
